Data source. The data comes from Farm Accountancy Data Network (FADN) [8]. FADN is a big database, maintained under auspices of European Commission. FADN participation is voluntary for farms. Data from farms are sent to a national branch of FADN (so-called liaison agent), which transmit the data to the global FADN database and is responsible for the international comparability of the data (i.e. the methodology of the collecting the data shall be the same in every EU country).

The survey does not cover all the agricultural holdings in the Union but only those which due to their size could be considered commercial. In total, FADN sample consists of about 80 000 holdings above a certain minimal economic size and represent about 5 mln farms using about 90% of the total utilized agricultural area and producing about 90% of agricultural marketable output.
